January was Named for Janus, THE TWO-FACED ROMAN DEITY.

One countenance looked backward to the year just passed.

We propose that neither of these faces longer look upon anything which partakes, in any manner, of the fashion of Winter Stuff. In disposing of this we will lose enough money without adding the words or the time.

We propose from Jan. 4th to Jan. 18th to hold a of near Mason, Mich., and Mrs. Carrie their brother, K. W. Noyes, by dropping in on him to help open the new year.

The types made us say last week that Mr. and Mrs. "Fred" Rawson were the happy parents of a fine boy baby, while all the world knew that it was Mr. and Mrs. "Frank" Rawson who were thus favored.

fruit farm in this country if not in the world. It will comprise 1,800 acres and Messrs. R. Morrill, O. E. Field, C. W. projectors.

Monday evening about twenty-five of Mrs. Ira Hurd of Allegan last week received a check for $2,000 from the K.

O. T. M., the amount of the insurance on her late husband's life. It will be remembered that she shot him several months ago, and says that she took him for a burglar.

No wonder stock in the First National bank of our village sells at a good premium. By careful management and square dealing its business has been largely increased and shareholders get regular dividends. On the 2d inst. this bank made its semi-annual dividend of $4.00 per share and carried a nice sum to surplus account.

Commencing with to-day and continuing until the 18th inst., W. R.
Sellick & Co. will hold a great clean-up sale of winter goods at 1/2 off former low prices. The stock thus to be reduced is an extensive one and comprises full lines of the goods always carried by this house--too heavy in fact for the advanced season; hence, the slaughter in prices. See their adv.

At the annual meeting of Paw Paw Grange No. 10, the following officers were elected, viz: W. R. Sirrine, W. M.; Mrs. Clara Warner, W. O.; Miss Frank

Lottie Warner, treas'r.; J. E. Packer, sec'y.; E. A. Wilkey, G. K.; Mrs. A. H.
Smith, Pomona; Mrs. A. T. Foote, Florist; Mrs. F. W. Rhodes, Ceres; Mrs.
W. R. Sirrine, L. A. S.

Probably no other paper has more largely influenced public opinion in America, through the views that have been expressed and the reforms that have been advocated in its editorial columns, than has Harper's Weekly during the thirty-eight years of its existence; and its recent political articles and signed and unsigned editorials have been conspicuous for ability and for constructive as well as destructive criticism.

The County Teachers' association will hold its next meeting at this place March 8 and 9. Dr. R. G. Boone of the State Normal will lecture on the evening of the 8th.

Senator James McMillan was nominated as his own successor by the unanimous vote of the Republican Senatorial caucus Wednesday night. The caucus for nominee for the short term was held last night and Burrows nominated.

Alonzo W. Stevens, one of Paw Paw's most highly respected citizens, died last Saturday morning of pneumonia, aged sixty one years. Of his immediate family, he leaves only his widow to mourn, their two children having died in infancy. The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. R. Sirrine at the Disciple church on Sunday afternoon. The burial, conducted by the Masonic fraternity, was in the Towers cemetery in Antwerp.

At a meeting of the Pastors' Union, it was decided to hold a week of prayer, beginning on Sunday evening at the Free Baptist church; Monday evening at the First Baptist church; Tuesday evening at the Methodist church; Wednesday evening at the Church of Christ; Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church. Rev. F. W. Mutchler of the Church of Christ will give the address Sunday evening. Let everyone join in this work. All are invited.

When Sheriff Thomas sent breakfast to the prisoners Sunday morning, he couldn't make the number of inmates and the number of rations prepared balance, and a count of noses disclosed the fact that H. S. Nye, the Gobleville depot burglar was conspicuous by his absence. By some means unknown to the common herd, he had got possession of a couple of small saws, had cut his way into the corridor, thence into the water closet, thence again over the high fence surrounding the jail yard, to assist in scaling which he had constructed a ladder from his bed clothing and the rounds of a chair. A reward of $50 is offered for his recapture.

In Harper's Bazar for January 5th (the first number of the twenty-eighth volume of this periodical) there will be charming indoor toilettes from Paris, by Sandoz, and also elegant visiting and street costumes. Margaret Weston Briscoe will contribute the second of a suggestive series of papers about women at home and in professions, the series being happily entitled "The Days We Live In." Harriet Prescott Safford will have a beautiful story, "Elizabeth's Charities." And Marjette Maarten will begin his splendid new story of Holland life, "My Lady Nobody." The Bazar for January 12th will have Marion Har-land's story "A Fin de Siecle Prodigal," and the first of a series of essays on Colonial dames. An interesting series on the actual necessary cost of a woman's dress in good society, and the amount it may cost, will begin in January.

Mrs. Ann Shaw Bugbee, mother of H. A. and C. C. Cole of this place, died at the home of the former New York day of heart failure, aged 66 years. She was convalescing from a severe attack of pneumonia, and was sleeping as quietly and sweetly as a babe but a moment before Mrs. Cole discovered her to be dead. Thus ended a life spent in self-sacrificing devotion to her family, friends and home, and a large acquaintance will sincerely mourn the loss of one so highly esteemed. Brief services will be conducted by Mrs. Barton and Rev.
Samuel Cole of Mattawan at 10 o'clock this morning at the residence of Editor Cole, after which the remains will be taken to Decatur for interment in the family lot at Lakeside. Deceased had been a zealous and active member of the Presbyterian church ever since the organization of that society in Decatur.
Peace to her ashes.

The ladies of the several Aid societies of this place are agitating the matter of doing something in aid of the destitute people of Southwestern Nebraska. The crops in that section the past season were almost an entire failure, and the suffering among the people is appalling.
Whatever is to be done should be done quickly. Committees should be appointed at once to solicit money, food and clothing. The cry of distress has never been unheeded by our people, and we are confident that as soon as they are made aware of the extent of the destitution existing among our Western neighbors the response will be swift and liberal. In this connection it gives us pleasure to note that ex-Governor Northern is heading a movement to send corn from Georgia to the starving people of Western Nebraska and is meeting with success. On Jan. 15 a long freight train will leave Atlanta laden with grain, a New Year's present from the overflowing bins of Georgia to the empty cribs of suffering Nebraska.

A year or more ago the two Baptist church organizations of this place inaugurated a movement having for its object the consolidation of the two memberships. Outsiders had little, if any, faith that such a desideratum could be reached, on account of the peculiar tenets held by the "Close Communion" Baptists regarding the sacrament and the partaking of it with any but the simon pure. Mrs. Anna Barton, pastor of the Free Baptist church, closed her church building and transferred her services and congregation to the First Baptist church, pending the negotiations for consolidation, and the two societies have worked along together in apparent harmony through all this time and up to the past week, when it was found that the scheme of consolidation must be abandoned and each society henceforth stand upon its own merits. We are informed that the First Baptist society required of their sister organization, as a condition of consolidation, that the Free Baptists sell their property and merge their material as well as their spiritual holdings.
This requirement was stoutly opposed by the Free Will, and as an outcome of the whole business Mrs. Barton last Sunday preached her farewell sermon to the combined congregations and in the future she will occupy her own pulpit.
